A representative of a government farm fund who visited P. W. Hokee the latter part of last week and was accompanied by the county auditor and state auditor, said that the director and state auditor had been told by some of the borrowers that they had repaid loans obtained in prior years and that they were not to be repaid against "extension credit" now.

The 298 cars that rolled before the rain brought the growers probably $53,000; whereas at a price of $3.50 a hamper, 30 cars will bring the growers more money and much more profit than the 298 cars did.

In the seven days of November 10 to 17, including 62 cars of vegetables were shipped from the Lake Okeechobee region via Florida East Coast railroad:

WEATHER BUREAU DISAPPROVES PLAN

A proposed plan of the Palm Beach county Chapter of the American Red Cross for dissemination of information and other weather disturbances does not meet with the favor of the United States Weather Bureau. The Washington office of the Red Cross has been informed of the Weather Bureau's views on the subject.

What the plan of the Chapter is or was is not clear, but the information concerning it was a news story sent from Belle Glade to the Palm Beach Post a few weeks ago, the story purporting to describe an arrangement by which the Chapter would telegraph weather information from West Palm Beach to Belle Glade and the information would be posted on a bulletin board.

An official of the Weather Bureau at Washington, writing to the Bureau office at Jacksonville says: "We think the report referred to, concerning the proposed action of the Red Cross in making independent distribution of weather information, to be a misunderstanding."

"The Weather Bureau is in close contact with officials of the Red Cross in Washington and elsewhere, in connection with advising them of storms and floods which might cause disasters requiring help from the Red Cross, but we doubt if its officers have any intention of encroaching on the functions of the Weather Bureau in the dissemination of weather information, forecasts and warnings to the public."

In another letter the attitude of the U. S. Weather Bureau is stated by C. C. Clark, chief of the Bureau at Washington:

"The Weather Bureau will not look with favor on such a program as outlined, as we feel confident that dissemination of information desired from sources other than the Weather Bureau, which is thoroughly organized for doing such work and is the only governmental agency having such authority, would not only be confusing but inimical to the interests of the people of the community whom the Red Cross desires to serve."

Mr. Clark adds that the subject had been taken up with the Washington office of the National Red Cross, and that if any representative of the Palm Beach county Chapter had any suggestions for improvement of the service rendered by the Weather Bureau, the Bureau would be glad to hear them.

R. F. C. Fund Used To Move Hyacinths

SOUTH BAY, Nov. 14.—The Reconstruction Finance Corporation money or a portion of it is being utilized this week to pay for the labor to clean the North New River canal of hyacinths. Citizens are cooperating in this work by donating their motor boats as they are chopped loose by the men working. Gas for this work has been donated by Jackson-Hamrick, by hunters from Miami who have fallen from South Bay as a base, and others who are anxious to see this menace done away with. These hyacinths have closed the North New River canal for the last two or three years. A transportation, served as a breeding place for mosquitoes and disease germs and interfered with drainage. Various means have been tried heretofore, but no action secured from any authority until now.

Prof. Howell made the address of the afternoon on "The Adolescent Age," in which he outlined the problems of this difficult age and the reasons for the physical, mental and spiritual change of the youth into an adult and how the parents are largely responsible for the success or failure of the youth to emerge from this age, a responsible adult with high ideals of citizenship and right living.

A. members on a general committee. The chair appointed Mrs. C. P. Denton and Mrs. J. M. Templeton members on this committee for the P. T. A.

SCULLEN VERSION OF DAM BREAKING

A version of a reported dynamiting of a dam in a canal of the South Florida company district located near Lake Harbor is given by J. F. Scullen, a supervisor of the district, in a letter to the Palm Beach Post and printed in the issue of the Post yesterday.

Supervisor Scullen's letter as summarized by the Post, says: "I am told that it was the same dynamite which the two deputies took from the mob that was eventually used to blow up the dam."

Mr. Scullen writes: "When the deputies' car stopped at South Bay to hear some electric returns, the dynamite was taken out of the car, returned to Lake Harbor and used for the purpose it was bought. I have heard it remarked in connection with this that there is at least no depression up here in defying the law, and that this particular case is a farce. The penalty for tampering with a dyke or dam is $500 fine or six months in prison."

It was not taxpayers who blew out the dam, according to Mr. Scullen. "The men who are considered the substantial growers of the South Shore district condemn such radical action. The South Florida conservancy district has given assistance several times in the past to the growers of the South Shore district. We have also found cuts in our dykes, completely camouflaged with bushes, to drain water off the South Shore district land into our pump canals."

"Had not the deputies taken away what dynamite they found, it would be hard to estimate what damage might have been done to life and property. As it is, we find fragments of timbers 4 by 6—eight feet long, blows 200 feet across the state highway by rock in all directions. Holes broken in the weather boards of Mr. Coggins' home, and his mule which was tied at his back door had its eye blown out. A grocery store nearby had the contents of its shelves scattered on the floor. Had the force of the blast gone in the opposite direction, it would have landed on homes closer than that of Mr. Coggins. A cap, which was badly cut, was found near the electric box that shot the charge."

Residents report that they are pleased with the way in which the recent election went.

County Board Heeds Bus Controversy

"Unofficial rumors that some of the pupils at the Belle Glade school had brought whiskey to school in pop bottles, startled the official call of the school board meeting Tuesday morning," the Palm Beach Post said in its issue of Wednesday. The article continued: "Delegates from the Everglades who had come in to discuss transportation problems with the school board proposed ignorance or said nothing when the question of pupils' liquor drinking among pupils was brought up by members of the school board. No official charges were made, merely the rumor was discussed by board members, who indicated that an investigation would be made."

"The Everglades representatives appeared to re-enter a protest against the bus schedule between Torrey Island and Kreamer Island and the Belle Glade and Pahokee schools. Because of two high school students, who have to use the Belle Glade bus to transfer to the Pahokee bus to reach the Belle Glade school, the school board and remain overtime, said the protest. Five other high school pupils have arranged their own transportation through a community school mobile to avoid this inconvenient schedule, it was explained."

"The board took the matter under advisement, with the understanding that an effort would be made to have the bus driver apportion part of his allowance for maintenance of the high school entombment in return for an easier schedule for his bus."

as at Pahokee and Canal Point. Mrs. Zoe B. Goodrich, executive secretary of the Palm Beach county chapter of the American Red Cross, reported Wednesday night on her return to her office in West Palm Beach, in the past three days 2,000 persons in the upper Glades had been given a week's supply of rations.

At Pahokee, every one of 1,688 families, approved by a growers committee appointed to identify registrants, had received their supply of food while about 800 families at Belle Glade had received their rations by nightfall, Mrs. Goodrich said.

As 1,688 persons in the Canal Point-Pahokee district had been registered for applicants in need, the Red Cross chapter is in help of additional contributions, eight weeks being estimated as the period in which relief will be sought, that being the time required for the making of a crop to engage bean pickers. Within the eight weeks there may be a devastating frost.

As bean picking is under way in the Belle Glade district the extent of the destitution is less.

JURY EXONERATES At an inquest held yesterday afternoon in Pahokee, John Fourmy, sugar company chemist, was exonerated of responsibility for the death of a colored girl who was killed the day before by his car. EAST COAST CANAL JOBS

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 15.—Low bidders on more than $300,000 worth of contracts for proposed improvements to the intra-coastal waterway between Jacksonville and Miami were announced here Tuesday by Major B. C. Dunn, United States district engineer.

The Clark Dredging Company, Miami, bid low for dredging 1,700,000 cubic yards of materials from Lake Worth, near West Palm Beach, with a figure of $180,753. Clint Moore, Delray Beach, submitted a bid of $19,915.50 for dredging 250,000 cubic yards of materials from a re-located channel in Ponce de Leon inlet at New Smyrna.

Six other firms bid on the Lake Worth project and two others submitted estimates on the Ponce de Leon inlet job.

The Clark company contracted to do the Lake Worth dredging work in 150 days. It will take about 15 days to complete the New Smyrna work, it was announced. Besides the successful bidder, companies figuring on the Lake Worth project included Arundel Corporation, Baltimore; P. Sanford Ross, Jersey City; Atlantic Gulf and Pacific Company, New York City; Standard Dredging Corporation, Trenton, N. J.; and H. C. Huffman Construction Company, Cleveland.

The Arundel Corporation and Merritt Dredging Company, Fort Pierce, were the other bidders on the Ponce de Leon project.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE SOUTH BAY, Nov. 16.—The Chamber of Commerce met on Tuesday evening with President Denton in the chair. Report was made that the school board would supply gas and oil necessary if labor could be secured at a basket ball court. No definite action was taken.

It was suggested that it would be well to clean up vacant lots on the townsite and plant them with flowers. The members of the Women's Home Demonstration Club have made inquiries as to a municipal cannery center and find it could be established at very small cost.

They awakened Hickerson and while a discussion was under way a shot was fired from the house and Uphogrove was taken to be wounded. Uphogrove was taken to the home of Budler's mother, Mrs. Tracey, in Canal Point and the next morning was taken to a hospital in West Palm Beach, state attorney elect.

PAHOKEE HOLIDAYS STUART TO O-O-TIE

STUART, Nov. 12.—A thrilling 0-0 finish of the local football season marked the Pahokee-Stuart game here yesterday.

The game was a close one, replete with exciting drives, intercepted passes, completed passes—almost anything the crowd wanted except scores. The two teams were well matched and played an even see-saw game without much advantage on either side.

Stuart's aggression seemed to be the key in attack. Pahokee suffered the same fault, but apparently for a purpose, for its entire attack was against the back right side of Stuart's line. But the crowd was delighted with the game which is probably the final test of its excellence.

Stuart threatened to score at three different times, in the first, third and fourth quarters. Only the third quarter incident was dangerous, for Charley Kinford, hauled in a long pass, and pushed it up the field for a 60-yard gain before he was finally fumbled by the safety man, the only thing between him and the goal post. Charley had fought off three other tacklers and it looked for a moment as if he was going through. But no such luck.

Stuart's gains on passes were more pronounced than Pahokee's. The Glades team seemed to have the best luck with a fake pass play around either end, mostly the right, but toward the last of the struggle, Stu Ulmer was breaking up this racket with consistent regularity.

In view of the fact that Stuart evidently expected to lose yesterday's battle was probably the first victory of the season.

REVOKES COMMISSION

Shirley Baker noted the hearing of county commissioners Tuesday that he had revoked the deputy sheriff commission of W. E. Swain of Pahokee.

PAHOKEE YOUTH LEAVES FOR STUDENT CONGRESS

Morris Tiffin, one of the three winners in the state Future Farmers' judging contest held at Gainesville the latter part of June, left with the other Florida contestants, James Mahaffey of Apopka, and Richard Green of Sebring, to attend the fifth national convention of the Future Farmers' organization being held in Kansas City next week in connection with the National Congress of Vocational Agriculture Students and the American Royal Live Stock Fair.

Morris is the son of Rev. and Mrs. E. Tiffin of Pahokee. He is a sophomore in Pahokee high school, taking agriculture under the direction of Professor H. L. Speer.

The Florida boys are making the trip by car in order to view the culture fields in the various states. Professor Speer accompanied Morris as far as Sebring, where he will be in the van.

Tom and the Sebring contingent to Apopka, where they joined the third contestant. From there the three boys will be accompanied to the convention by H. E. Woods, state supervisor. Expenses are being paid by the state association of Future Farmers.

C. L. Beale, general superintendent of the Florida East Coast railroad, with headquarters at St. Augustine, called Monday night. He had come down to see about the progress on culvert building at Sand Cut, where an opening in the railroad grade will give drainage facilities to several hundred acres of land.

Tom McBride and John Whidden, early settlers in the Moore Haven district, now farming at Bare Beach, came over Tuesday night to see about the water there on the east side of the lake. They wanted the information as a guide to when they would plant. Neither one of them likes the so-called "progress" that has increased population and increased the competition and made most everybody poor. Before there was so much drainage and sugar cane and food crops and Federal loans this was a pretty good country, they say.

On his way north from a speaking appointment at Miami, W. C. McCormick of Jacksonville, executive secretary of the Florida "Fruiters" Association, called Wednesday. The Florida Association maintains an office in the Barnett Bank building in Jacksonville and is doing a needed and splendid work. As timber resources are being depleted, the state is turning to the state through turpentine and sawmilling it is important that reforestation be carried on. Mr. McCormick hopes to make a study of the tree-growing possibilities of the Everglades.

COMMUNITY GOSSIP

While Frank O'Connell and Ray Hawk were driving Saturday on Conners highway, going along peacefully and not bothering anybody or anything, they were attacked by a flock of four wild turkeys that came out of the woods between St. Lucie canal and Chatterbox bay. Being untrained they fled before the fierce onslaught and sought a gun from Mr. Horne who lives near-by. They got the gun and returned in pursuit of the turkeys, with visions of a Thanksgiving feast, but if they have turkey for dinner next Thursday they will have to buy it or enjoy a gift from friends, for when they got back to the hunting ground the wild turkeys were gone and could not be found.

QUITS AND JIBES

Its neighbors poked fun at Canal Point during and because of the high water, although Canal Point is a modest, unpretentious village that never did anybody any harm. To be sure, there was a time when a misguided Yankee from Massachusetts got out some signs, "Metropolis of the Everglades," but that was a time when no one had much sense. Celsus Dahlberg having communicated his crassness to a lot of people, so he is excusable.

Hundreds of persons from Pahokee drove up to Canal Point and stopped their cars in front of the office of The Everglades News, and sat in their cars and looked at it.
